

I worship in a gurdwara.	In my religion, we often make promises during Lent and try to change something in our lives.	My religion is about 2000 years old.
My religion has one Holy book.	Our Holy book is put to bed at night.	My religion has one Holy book.
My religion will provide you with free food if you visit our place of worship.	My place of worship is a mandir.	In my religion, all men and all women share the same surname.
My religion worships one God.	My religion worships many gods.	I pray in a church.
My religion involves worshipping the gods at home using a puja tray.	We sometimes carry a miniature sword that we wear under our clothing.	At one of my favourite festivals, we throw coloured powder and paint at each other.
The symbol of my religion is a cross.	My religion has several different Holy books.	My religion worships one God.
My religion teaches that the world was created from a lotus flower.	The founder of my religion was born in Bethlehem.	Some members of my religious group never cut their hair.
One of our important festivals starts on Good Friday.	My religion is about 5000 years old.	The symbol of my religion is a double- edged sword.